Pathways World School, Gurgaon remains firmly rooted in its founding family's vision and values. The school continues to be owned and led by our family, with an enduring sense of responsibility towards the institution and the community we have built together.

Pathways is more than a name. It represents a philosophy, a culture and a distinctive approach to education, one that places the child at the centre, nurtures curiosity and independent thinking, and pursues excellence with humanity. Our roots are deep, and our eyes are firmly on the future.

Our commitment to the school's future is unwavering. We continue to invest in our people, our academic and student programmes, our systems and technology, and our campus infrastructure. Just as we stay true to our founding principles, we continue to evolve with the changing times, with the ambition to keep raising the standard of the educational experience we offer our students.

Mr. Prabhat Jain, Co-Founder
Pathways Group of Schools
